ASA Midwest Council Hosts 7th Annual Meet the GCs Expo

ST. LOUIS, MO. — The American Subcontractors Association-Midwest Council hosted the 7th Annual Meet the GCs Expo on January 28, 2009 at the Kemp Auto Museum from 3:30 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.

The Expo is an event for subcontractors, vendors and supplies to meet general contractors. It is set up like a trade show where guests can mingle with general contractors they currently do business with or get reacquainted if they have worked together in the past. One of the prime benefits is the opportunity for ASA members and general contractors to meet each other and discuss the potential for business relationships. Networking with other subcontractors is also a strong purpose for attendance.

Twenty-eight general contractors participated with booths. A record number of subcontractors, suppliers and vendors attended the event, with nearly 1,100 people participating. Even though attendance was at an all time high, there was plenty of room at the Kemp.

The event was an overwhelming success and the ASA Midwest Council will hold this event next year in early 2010. For more information, please call the ASA Midwest Council office at (314) 214-1664.
